

MEXICAN SITUATION BECOMES OMINOUS

WEST IS HELD IN GRIP OF SEVERE STORM

Cold Wave Visits California; Citrus Fruits Escape
NO DAMAGE IN FRESNO COUNTY
First Snow Falls in Phoenix; Predict Relief; Moving Eastward

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 28.—The Rocky Mountain states, which since early Wednesday have been in the grip of the most severe storm of the winter, were pumpled relief tonight. The storm is moving eastward, and warmer weather was forecast for tonight and tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recorded here today was five degrees below zero. At Cheyenne, Wyo., the mercury has stood at 12 degrees below for two days.

The snowfall extended as far south as New Mexico, five inches being reported at Albuquerque. At Flagstaff, Ariz., a fall of seven inches, and south of that point heavy rain served to swell streams near Phoenix so that some property was lost.

Phoenix tonight reported danger of heavy flood damage. In New Mexico, Santa Fe trains from Chicago were reported twenty-four hours late.

Snow was falling tonight at Phoenix, the earliest in twenty-four years. In western Colorado the snowfall was heavy. Aspen held the record with five feet. In some localities the residents were compelled to shovel snow from the roofs of houses to prevent possible collapse. Union Pacific trains from the Pacific coast were running several hours late in Utah and Wyoming.

Citrus Groves Safe
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—The California cold wave, involving temperatures ranging around 20 above zero during the night hours and 30 above during the middle of the day, has not damaged the citrus groves so far, according to growers' reports from various sections.

Shading was necessary in some localities last night. In many groves even this precaution was deemed needless.

Porterville Oranges Escape
PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28.—No damage was suffered by the oranges of the Porterville district by the cold of Thursday night and Friday morning, according to detailed reports which came into packing houses of the district today. The lowest recorded temperature at Porterville was 28 degrees. As the fruit is almost fully mature, a lower temperature than that can be sustained without damage for many hours.

No Damage at Lindsay
LINDSAY, Nov. 28.—Despite reports to the contrary, A. M. Robertson, secretary of the Lindsay Citrus Growers' association, today declared that no damage resulted to Lindsay oranges from the cold of yesterday and last night. The weather was cold, but not more so than on three other nights in the past few days.

Snow Falls, Seattle
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 28.—Seattle's first snow of the year fell today, the heaviest blizzard since 1915.

First Snow, Phoenix
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 28.—Snow began falling this afternoon. Officials of the weather bureau said it was the first November snow since the station was established here in 1885.

Nebraska Two Below
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 28.—Revere cold wave results over the greater part of Nebraska today, with temperatures ranging from a minimum of 2 below zero at Kimball to a maximum of 10 above. Tonight snow began falling heavily in Lincoln and over the southern section of the state.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT TOLERATE ANY COAL RESTRICTIONS

Miners and Operators Notified; Workers to Be Protected; to Get 14 Per Cent Increase

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The government served blunt notice on soft coal miners and operators tonight that the interference with coal production would not be tolerated. Warning that "legal proceedings would be employed to thwart conspiracies by either side, and to prevent wherever necessary to protect miners willing to work, came from the department of justice after the cabinet had considered every phase of the fuel situation, admittedly critical, in view of the abrupt breaking off of negotiations.

The government does not intend to let the mines remain idle with half the country gripped by cold weather and coal piles rapidly diminishing.

The administration, it was thought by those in a position to know, had fully expected the miners to accept the 14 per cent wage increase offered by Fuel Administrator Garfield. Anticipating this, plans had been considered for augmenting the present output of bituminous coal.

The government does not intend to let the mines remain idle with half the country gripped by cold weather and coal piles rapidly diminishing.

To Protect Workers
A statement issued by Attorney General Ames late in the day gave assurances to all miners that they would be afforded ample protection if they returned to work. This is the only definite statement of policy from the government in official circles. It was said the federal authorities are determining the force and suspension of operations on the terms laid down by the fuel administrator.

Offer 14 Per Cent Increase
Executive orders were sent out to resume production by telegraphing notice for posting at mines everywhere offering an increase of 14 per cent for men willing to work.

There were few expressions as to how this information might be received, but representatives of the miners here said it would be ignored, especially in the central states of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and western Pennsylvania. Operators, however, believed it would draw large numbers to the mines.

No Restriction Tolerated
It is, of course, obvious that the time has come when the coal situation will be furnished all persons desiring to work in mines. All persons, whether miners or operators, making an agreement or arrangement with each other to restrict the supply of coal will be likewise guilty by the terms of the lever act.

Instructions heretofore issued by the war department are still in force, and under these instructions contemplated by stated that "developments may be expected shortly."

Sheriff Thomas upon this afternoon at Fort Mackenzie investigating the records of those in jail, and later announced that he would order the release of a majority of the inmates, if not all.

The action followed announcement by Prosecuting Attorney Lusk that the only charges he believed could be filed against the miners under the state law would be for violation of statutes pertaining to "incitement to crime."

Although it was first announced that the miners had been arrested for violation of the injunction issued by Federal Judge A. B. Hudson at Indianapolis, United States Attorney Riddick today notified Sheriff Thomas that he would not file formations against them.

A delegation of miners appeared to the sheriff today for release of the men on condition that they returned to work.

The men were arrested by federal troops under Major Warren Dean, who acted on representations from Sheriff Thomas that they were undesirable alien radicals who had threatened the lives of other miners desiring to return to work.

Deny Military Used
CURRY, Wyo., Nov. 28.—Denial that military forces were in any way responsible for the arrest of 62 miners at Curryville last Wednesday was made tonight by Brigadier General Benjamin A. Poore, commander of the federal force in Wyoming.

Using Old Slack
BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 28.—Shutting down the mines of the Butte district, as suggested to the American Copper Mining Company today in a letter from Regional Fuel Administrator T. W. Pringle of Chicago would only intensify the present

ADVISES CAUTION IN HANDLING ALL HOLIDAY PARCELS

NEW YORK, April 29.—Advice received recently from the Philadelphia police that radical plans had been discovered for robbing a wholesale scale during the holidays of the home-madling plot of last May, the district attorney advised caution in handling all parcels.

Citizens were advised to open over suspicious looking bundles received by mail, express or otherwise to the fuel department's bureau of combustible or to the police department's bomb squad for examination.

The May Day outrages were cited as examples of the extent to which desperate minded radicals will go to inflict punishment upon representatives of law and order, whose duty it has been to suppress the advocates of "direct action."

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, went home tonight, worn out by the long struggle. Before leaving for Indianapolis, Lewis law Secretary of Labor, William Wilson, said that he had arranged with the federal authorities to have the federal authorities assist in the appeal from the ruling of Federal Judge Anderson ordering the coal strike order cancelled.

The labor and official circles the meeting of Lewis and Wilson was regarded as significant.

After leaving Wilson's office, Lewis said: "Dr. Garfield represents the government. Mr. Wilson told me that today." This was taken by Lewis to mean that the 14 per cent wage offer was definitely and finally the government's offer. So far, obtaining help for his union was concerned, Lewis said the 11 per cent was all he might expect.

Operators to Meet Wednesday
The operators' wage scale committee will meet here again next Wednesday to discuss the 14 per cent wage advance offered by the government.

A telegram urging all operators to post notices offering the 14 per cent wage advance was sent by a committee composed of T. W. Guthrie, A. M. Ogle and E. C. Seares, who remained in Washington to represent the central competitive field.

Your committee recommends and considers important that all mines post notices at once of the advance in wages. The message read: "Your committee advises that details of the proposed wage advance will be sent to a meeting of the state committee here next Wednesday, to preserve proper differentials. For that reason details should not be included in the present notice. Between employers and employees at mines which have been working will give date on which increase is effective at those mines. Following is the form of notice to be used at mines to work."

Notice at Mines
The government of the United States has decided that mine workers are entitled to a 14 per cent wage increase in wages. The increased cost of living. This company gives notice that a 14 per cent wage increase is hereby granted, effective at once. This average increase will be made in wages of all employees. The new scale of wages will be posted as soon as possible."

DEPORTATIONS SAID TO HAVE BEEN HELD OVER

Ellis Island Head Declares Commissioner Neglected Orders
SAID HE SHOULD BE CONSULTED
Provide Nine Marshals to Discipline Reds on Hunger Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Testimony that Frederick C. Howe, former commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island, had ordered deportations of radicals held up, although final deportation orders had been received from the department of labor, was given today by a committee on immigration today by Terry A. Baker, representative of the island. Baker put in evidence an order he had received from Howe last March, reading:

"You will stay all deportations in these cases until the attorney general can be advised and until after consultation with me."

Baker testified that an order of the department to deport was final and by their force did not understand the note from Howe and cancelled him. Baker then made this memorandum on the copy of the note shown to the committee:

"Commissioner states, if deportation order is received, it is to be held up until the attorney general has no right to stop deporting."

Representative Siegel of New York said there was no authority in law for such staying of deportations. Baker said that the attorney general of Howe's order probably was in principle delay for the institution of habeas corpus proceedings.

Representative Siegel read from immigration department records names of two men who had been held at the island since they were released mostly on their own recognizance. They are missing now.

Howe interrupted Baker's testimony to give his version, but was shut off by the committee, which promised to hear him later.

He then issued a statement to the press saying he had never released a radical without orders from Washington.

This statement was issued after Howe had interrupted Byron H. Ell, now acting commissioner at the island, and deputy attorney general, who had testified that a letter signed by Howe April 21 ordering the deportation of anarchists had been delivered to the island, but had not been enforced by the officers to enforce it until June 4.

"That isn't true," Howe exclaimed before the committee which informed him that it would tolerate no "police court" method.

Budley Field Malone, then collector of the port of New York, addressed the committee after war was declared, Baker testified, and promised them that their treatment would be such that they would have no cause for complaint, and that exiles would be provided. The exiles were never provided, however, Baker added.

Nine hungry deputy United States marshals were provided for Commissioner Ell today so that he could break the "hunger strike" of 43 radicals who had been held at Ellis Island since the war was declared. Malone will use force to bring the radicals before immigration inspectors for deportation proceedings, which they refused to attend because relatives and friends would not be permitted to see them without an iron barrier intervening.

The "hunger strikers" have been on hunger strike for removal of the barrier for food, having last answered the summons to the dining room last Monday night, the hunger strikers collapsed today and were removed to the island hospital.

Miss Lusk, who was before the committee when it returned to the island, will conclude its present session here tomorrow, when it will hear the American carrying 25 Italian immigrants, at quarantine, and allow the release of the newcomers to the island. The committee will be in Washington Monday for the opening of congress.

WILL INVESTIGATE PROFITEERING IN SALES OF LIQUOR

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 28.—Department of Justice officials here today were investigating reports that bootleggers were profiteering in the sale of liquor. District Attorney Moore said he had received information that bootleggers were charging 10 to 15 cents a drink for high-grade drinks.

MUST SERVE DAY FOR EACH EGG HE THREW AT CROWD
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—As a sequel to an egg battle he conducted against a group of homebound theatergoers last night, Otto Lange, 36, was given 30 days, a day for each egg thrown, by a police judge here today. Several tried to catch the eggs, as they were of the frozen variety, but, according to the arresting officer, Lange "had no much stuff on the ball."

DEFEAT LONDON COAL INQUIRY
Labor Measure Given Overthrow When Presented
LONDON, Nov. 28.—The government won a sweeping victory in the House of Commons today when it defeated a motion for a labor inquiry into the coal situation.

The motion, which has many supporters outside the labor party, is an outcome of an order issued by Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of national service and reconstruction, on November 24 that household coal would be reduced to 10 shillings a ton in March.

ANOTHER AMERICAN SLAIN; GOVERNMENT TAKES FIRM STAND

Revolt Reported in Mexico City; Carranza in Flight; Eight U. S. Citizens Already Killed

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—There is no foundation for the rumor in circulation in the United States that there has been fighting in Mexico City between the factions of President Carranza and General Obregon.

There was no official pronouncement as to what action, if any, the American government might be contemplating, but administration officials, in circulation, were willing to show that the government is taking a firm position, considering the eventualities, and is prepared to deal with them, once a course is chosen.

One official said, who was in touch with the official report of the murder of James Wallace, an American oil man, killed Wednesday near Tampico, called on Secretary Lansing. The Wallace referred to is here believed to be W. M. Wallace, an employee of the Gulf Refining Company, familiarly known to his associates as "Slim."

For one of the members of the organization was so impressed with what he saw while in Fresno in the position was so impressed with the chamber's efforts for solving the food problem that he has decided to come to Fresno to help in the solution of this problem.

This is but an example of the chamber's efforts to solve the food problem. Scores of letters are being received and thousands of dollars are being contributed to the chamber for the information which is being shown in Fresno every month.

With the idea in view of giving authentic and up-to-date information on the county and its industries, the chamber is planning to issue bulletins on many subjects. It is found that due to the rapid advance of the county and the constantly changing conditions that statistics rapidly become out of date and this necessitates constant revision of the data.

"Black Raisins" in Heavy Demand, C. of C. Reports

Thereby 17 cents is the price, and at that rate hardly any are available.

Daily inquiries have been made at the Chamber of Commerce for so-called "black raisins," and the officials there have telephoned to nearly every house in the city in search of them to fill the demand. One San Francisco firm wanted a carload.

A supply was found at only one house in the city, and as far as the chamber officials were able to find out, the price quoted there was 17 cents, which even some of the raisins after this particular variety of raisins stated was too high, and would not pay.

Consequently a call has been sent out by the chamber for all those who have black raisins for sale to communicate with the Fresno office, and their products will find a ready market.

Men desirous securing employment and also those who desire accommodations are asked to communicate with the secretary at 1633 J street, while employers are asked to let their needs with the Legion's bureau.

WEIRD ASTRONOMY

A foolish Frenchman who qualified for newspaper purposes as an "astronomer" predicted that there would be a tremendous sun spot on December 17, by reason of an extraordinary conjunction of planets on that date. More foolish syndicate editors, looking for "pep" in the "Sunday Supp." drew pictures of the sun spouting out flames for thousands of miles, and of course overwhelming the earth. It happens, to be sure, that the earth is millions, not thousands of miles away, and will be, incidentally, on that date in an entirely different direction from the sun spot, but little facts like that do not disturb the imagination of the scientific editor of the Sunday Supp. Some of these syndicate articles evidently got to Mexico. So, in anticipation of that date, reports are that many persons are committing suicide. They can not stand the strain of waiting for the end of the world.

Of course we are not likely to go quite to the suicide extreme in America. Our people may be no better educated in astronomy than the Mexicans but they are more sceptical. They are not quite sure that anything is true. But we shall doubtless have some very stirred-up imaginations, even here. It was so when we went through the tail of Halley's comet, a few years ago. A comet is a "fearsome thing, anyway. Our ancestors were always afraid of it. This was made the more fearsome by scientific evidence that the tail contained cyanogen, a poison. To be sure, a million miles of it contained scarcely as much as one peach pit, and one drop of oil of almonds could pollute more of the earth's atmosphere than it could gather in a passage of the whole comet; but these, again, are figures, and the imagination is not a mathematical faculty. So there was a lot of scare, and there was great relief when we finally went through the comet without knowing it, and without leaving even a hole in it to mark our passage.

This time, a little calculation that the conjunction of planets will raise the level of the tides on earth by something less than a millionth of an inch, and that this is several thousand times greater than its effect on the sun, will probably not serve to allay the terror of the superstitious. But sensible people know that when the Whitney topples over because a fly perches on its summit, it will then be time enough to look for an explosion of the sun from a conjunction of the outer planets.

EXPORT IT

It is expected that the Supreme Court of the United States will, on December 8, decide whether the war-time prohibition act is or is not constitutional. The technical legal question has been decided both ways in the lower courts, and is therefore presumably technically debatable, but the tendency of the Supreme Court, in recent years, has been so strongly toward giving effect to the expressed will of the people and of Congress that the chances are decidedly in favor of a decision sustaining the act. If the act should be declared unconstitutional, of course everything would be thrown "wide open" for five weeks, except where prevented by state or local laws. It would be the drunkenest Christmas the nation has ever known. In the more probable event of its being sustained, then the only hope of even a few days' "wet" interval would be the possibility that the Senate might arrange a compromise on the peace treaty, debate it and pass it, and have all the formalities of its acceptance closed, before January 16. Since it would be, physically impossible to complete all this, even with the best of will, much short of that time, and since with the existing ill will it is scarcely humanly possible to do it until much later, the prospects of even a brief cleanup are scarcely worth gambling for by the liquor interests.

The only profitable alternative is the one the Republican has several times suggested. That is—export it! Under the war-time prohibition act, no force, it is forbidden to sell liquor in this country, but it is permitted to export it abroad. Under constitutional prohibition, after January 16, it will be illegal even to export it. So all that is ever to be got out of the country must go out between now and January 16, 1920. And whatever goes out can never come back. We shall be rid of it, permanently. It will pay the owners to ship it, and it will protect the country to have it shipped. The less there is left, the less illegitimate peddling of it there will be. And the only time to get it out is now.

CIDER

According to Dr. Porter, New York Commissioner of Food and Markets, cider bids fair to become the national drink. The demand already is far more than this year's short-crop supply. But Dr. Porter warns the people that genuine "hard" cider is mostly a delusion. If it has been artificially fortified it is of course against the law, while natural hard cider is difficult to make and still harder to keep. Usually it turns to vinegar.

The special privilege given to cider under the prohibition enforcement laws is a curious freak of American politics. If an apple grower manufactures non-intoxicating sweet cider, and nature subsequently turns it into intoxicating hard cider, it still remains a legal drink. But if a grape grower manufactures non-intoxicating grape juice, and nature subsequently turns it into intoxicating wine, the drink and the manufacture are both illegal. The difference is of course that apple growers have many votes in many Congress districts, while wine grape growers have few votes in few districts.

However, if cider is to be the one legal drink, the American people will have to learn how to make it. Even though Dr. Porter says it is "difficult," it is not impossible. It has been made in Normandy for centuries, with all the care lavished on wine in the more favored parts of France. "Sweet" cider, of course, is the favored "soft" drink. It is comparatively easy. Any sort of apples, crushed and pressed anyhow, and perhaps filtered or racked, will make some sort of sweet cider. Doubtless we shall get it mostly artificially preserved with benzene or soda. Increasing care in the choice of apples and in methods of manufacturing will improve the quality. Inasmuch as it will not keep indefinitely, even with the benzene preservative, and will not keep sweet at all without the preservative, it will have to be freshly made, and can therefore only be had when and where fresh apples are plenty. Without the preservative, when a few days old, it clarifies itself and can be decanted by racking. It has a pungent quality, due to the carbon dioxide of fermentation, and it also has a real "kick"—doubtless considerably more than one-half per cent. If, by special privilege, the "kick" is legal if it comes from cider, and illegal if it comes from anything else, this fact will produce a tremendous demand.

For mature, or hard cider, as it is made in Normandy, nothing more is required than the same care which it now takes to produce good dry wine. The Normans get the best results by a blend of three sorts of apples, sweet, sour and bitter. They use good, sound apples, instead of the culls usually used in America, and they use them clean. They crush them carefully and they ferment them in cool cellars, in full barrels. When the first fermentation is finished they rack, like wine, into other barrels, being careful to fill them quite full, so as not to have any extra air in the barrel to support acetic fermentation. The racking may be repeated once or twice. If the cider is aged in barrels, the loss from evaporation is replenished to keep the barrels always full. When mature, the cider may be bottled, like wine, but it should be with the same care.

How long this special privilege of cider may last we can not guess. But if it does last, American producers should learn these lessons from Normandy.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Those newspapers in California who are demanding that the University regents censor the economic and political views of members of the faculty should realize what their doctrine would mean; if it were once begun to be carried out.

A good illustration is a recent article in the New York Sun. A "friend of the Sun," a man of large means and interested in education, was appealed to to contribute to the endowment fund of an Eastern university. He replied that he felt that he was "within his rights in asking to see the platform of the institution of learning he was asked to help." The vital thing needed for America is stability, and the universities, he feared, were helping undermine that stability by a too sympathetic attitude toward "prevalent radicalism." His personal view was that we had reached our present critical situation through the steps of the Adamson law, the Clayton law, the income tax, and the partial exemption of labor unions and farmers from the trust laws. All these things he attributed to minds "not trained to think straight." If he was to contribute to an institution, he wanted to know that it would teach the theories in which he believed, and oppose these policies which he did not regard as straight thinking.

In other words, this particular prospective contributor demanded that the university should oppose policies which the majority of the American people, through their representatives, have approved, and which are now the law of the land, and should train up minds to "think straight" on the extreme capitalist, anti-labor side of all present issues.

Now, it is certain that some and probably that most of the University regents in California are personally opposed to most of the laws to which this "friend of the Sun" objected. It is certain that some and probably that most of the University professors agree with Congress and the majority of the American people on most of these laws. At any rate, it is certain that they would be studied sympathetically and intelligently, with an understanding of the democratic forces which secured their passage. If the regents were to impose their own views on the faculty, in these respects, they would be committing a crime against free speech and intellectual progress. None of them ever had any idea of doing so. To impose any "platform" on a university, whether the conservative doctrine of the average trustees or regents, the radical doctrine of the professional political agitators, or the personal doctrine of some editor, would be equally pernicious. The most precious possession of modern civilization is freedom of thought, investigation and teaching. For out of that have come all our other possessions, both material and spiritual.

NEWSPAPERS COUNT VOTES

The Daily News, one of the most enterprising newspapers in London, announced that its election experts compute that Lady Astor was victorious by 4,000 votes at the election held two weeks ago. The official count has since raised this estimate to 5,500, but the 4,000 was coming reasonably near. Two weeks' work by an exceptionally energetic British newspaper, assisted by a staff of experts, ought to come fairly near to finding out how an election went, in one small district, where the vote was not close. What American newspapers can do for a whole continental nation, in a few hours, British journalism ought to do for a single district in two weeks.

Americans scarcely realize to what an extent their election results are determined by the newspapers. Except in very close contests, where the majority is less than the margin of error, nobody pays any attention to the official count. We declare a President "elected" in the newspapers long before the electoral votes for him have been even cast. It is months before they are officially counted, and even then no one declares the result. The number of votes for each is announced in Congress, but no one proclaims that one of these numbers is the majority, and that a certain person is elected. The person whom the newspapers said was elected presides, of his own accord, to the Capitol on March 4, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court swears him in. That is all. And, with our newspapers, it is enough.

ASK RELIGIOUS LIBERTY BE EFFECTIVE IN KOREA

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Federal Council of Protestant Evangelical Missions of Korea has just proposed to Governor General Baron Saito a petition asking that religious liberty, already guaranteed by the Japanese Constitution, be made effective in Korea. The petitioners also asked that steps be taken by Japanese authorities to promote the moral welfare of the Korean people. The memorial was presented pursuant to a request from the Governor General that the missionaries frankly express their views.

In presenting the petition, the Federal Council expressed to Baron Saito its gratification over his plans for reforms in Korea. In regard to evangelistic work, the petitioners asked that fewer restrictions be placed upon the church and its missionaries. They declared that in the past the propagation of the gospel has been continually hindered, that Christian workers had been interfered with, and that Korea had been retarded in becoming Christian. The petitioners requested that officials be not allowed to discriminate against Christians and Christians.

Among other things, the Federal Council asked: Permission to teach the Bible and hold religious exercises in their churches; Removal of restrictions on the use of the Korean language.

More liberty in the management of missionary schools and freedom from unnecessary official interference.

Equal educational opportunities for Koreans and Japanese.

Greater freedom in the selection of textbooks.

Removal of restrictions on the study of Korean and universal history.

Freedom to manage missions; hospitals without official interference.

Removal of censorship of Christian books and that missionaries be not restricted in publishing books, church news and religious literature.

Freedom from official interference.

LITHUANIANS EARLY AMERICAN SETTLERS

In the early part of the 19th century a group of Lithuanians sailed away from their native country to escape religious persecution, and landed on the island of Guadeloupe. Years later, they, together with their descendants, were brought by the English as prisoners of war to what was then known as New Amsterdam, now New York City. From there they have come to America in considerable numbers and have prospered all over the country. A great number of them became farmers and live on the great farms and ranches of the country.

At the beginning of the 19th century, Dr. Alexander Burt, a Lithuanian priest and a man of great learning, started out to organize a Lithuanian living in this country. Father Burt's ground was a number of Lithuanians of his own nationality, writers, poets and physicians, and together they founded the Lithuanian Church of America with headquarters in Chicago, Ill.

The aims of the organization were: 1. To defend the Lithuanians from the influence of the Catholic Church, which was in the first months of its existence.

2. To further moral and religious development.

3. To keep alive and develop American and Lithuanian national sentiment among the immigrants.

was formed a Lithuanian paper was started under the name "The Lithuanian." This paper, edited by Dr. Burt, was a great factor in the progress of the Lithuanian Union of America and had great influence upon the Lithuanian life.

Our merchants: Otto Friedrich was the early bird in 1879, in a wooden cage, where the Elmer building now is. He sold many goods for much money, but like all pioneers began to feel crowded, and sought relief in change to banking. Kuttner and Goldstein came next and have built, in 1878, a brick store room at the corner of Mariposa street, but long and 40 feet wide, and a basement which they still fill up and empty into the lap of the surrounding country. Silverman & Einstein dropped in about the same time, built the brick on the opposite corner, now occupied by Louis, Schwartz & Co., with the express office, and exchanged business, handling many thousands of dollars worth of merchandise, and money. In the year, then there was W. L. Davis, shadowed out, and Wm. COLLIER GIVES LECTURES HERE

Community Worker Will Be Principal Lecturer in U. C. Course

John Collier of New York City, who is to be the chief lecturer at the University extension course in Americanization in Fresno, is described as the most prominent "community worker" in the United States. The course in Americanization conducted by the University of California extension division begins here on December 8, and the selection of Collier as the chief speaker is considered particularly fortunate. His work in Los Angeles, where the work is now being completed, has not with unqualified praise.

John Collier is at present director of the training school for community workers in New York, and president of the national committee on Americanization. He founded and has guided the existence of a hundred community centers in New York City. He has also taken an interest in having picture censorship. Collier is widely known in the East as a brilliant lecturer and successful teacher, and since the war he has turned his efforts toward the study of the Americanization problem. He has studied closely the alien, both in this country and in Europe, and is now engaged in conducting Americanization courses throughout the country. Already he has given courses in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Minneapolis, and is at present in Los Angeles.

His course in Fresno will be on the subject, "Americanization in General, Its Scope and Methods." Five other courses are to be given in Fresno in the University extension classes which open on December 8. Full information of these courses may be secured from Miss Katherine Tapscott, Chamber of Commerce, Fresno.

Legion Band Will Hold Its Initial Practice Monday

The American Legion Band, which now numbers between twenty and thirty pieces, will hold its first practice Monday night in the Legion rooms, according to an announcement from the Fresno post headquarters yesterday.

The Legion called for all members who could play band instruments to gather last Monday night and at that time it was discovered that there were plenty of men available to make a creditable organization.

The question of a leader has not been settled yet and although several men are being considered, one to conduct the new organization will not be named until later. This will be the first practice of the new band and the committee in charge of its formation desires that any interested be present as it is the hope that there will be a large organization formed from the nucleus already obtained.

It is expected that the formation of the Legion band will give outlet for numerous new activities of the Fresno Post, as a theoretical committee has been appointed and are at present considering giving a performance by Legion talent at the White Theater. Should this be accomplished, it is expected that the Legion band will be used to furnish the music.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—Seventeen committees have been created by the government to work out the details of a national labor law that is planned to pass either by the present National Assembly or through the coming Reichstag. The committee will be so divided up as to deal with every phase of labor and every phase of the problem. The German government hopes to have an ideal system with countless improvements over the past.

SEASON AT RIVERIA EXPECTED TO BE GOOD

LONDON, Nov. 28.—London regards the prospects of the coming Riviera season as particularly bright. There is much to indicate that, now the German element has gone, Mentone will be restored to its former state as the English colony on the Riviera. English people who visited Mentone annually in pre-war days are anxious to return after five years' absence and there are many others who, having taken of continental travel in their war service, will be attracted by the beauties of the Riviera and, perhaps, the allurements of Monte Carlo.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28.—Convicted of charges of rioting and unlawful assembly during the general strike here last spring, a man was yesterday sentenced to two years at hard labor in the penitentiary. Henry Gouk, a returned soldier, was given three months in jail. Michael Ryan, two years in the penitentiary, and Thomas Scuranski, one year in jail on the same charges.

PROSSER, Wash., Nov. 28.—Guarded by ten armed deputy sheriffs, headed by Sheriff L. C. Rolph, Walter Thomas, Mills, lecturer and writer for the non-partisan league, last night spoke to an audience of sympathizers and about fifty former soldiers. Mills, enfolded the American government and confined his speech to Americanism and patriotism.

CLOTHING STILL URGENT DEMAND

Countess Will Speak in Interest of Serbian Relief Drive

In spite of the fact that clothing is piled up in the Auditorium in quantities probably amounting to a ton, the call for more is still urgent, states Mrs. H. E. Patterson, chairman of the clothing committee of the Serbian relief drive. The clothing now on hand represents articles ranging from babies' stockings to men's hats. One school boy in town donated everything he didn't need, including a warm baseball suit, stating that he could get along without it, and he knew that it was likely to be cold.

As the shipment of clothing to the Serbians begins on Monday, the local committee has asked that all donations be sent in at once, so that the ladies may finish the fumigation and packing in time for shipment. Anyone who has not time to take the clothing to the Auditorium may call up 3122, and a truck will be sent after it.

A request has been made that donations of packing burlap and heavy packing paper be made, as the clothing is to be shipped in bales, which are more easily handled and packed than boxes.

The Countess Louise d'Artois will be entertained by the local committee during December, and speak on the condition of the children in Belgium, France and Serbia.

Mrs. H. E. Patterson, one of the foremost Serbian relief workers, gives the following list of donations, exclusive of war equipment and loans from the Allies:

Three harvests, valued at $1,200, $200,000.
Eight million head of poultry.
Six million head of sheep and goats.
Two million head of hogs.

One million three hundred head of cattle.
One hundred and thirty thousand horses.

These, in a country as per cent agricultural, where all machines and every implement down to the most trivial has either been carried away, or destroyed.

Total money donations up to the time of the last committee meeting has been announced by Leopold Gundelfinger, who is in charge of the finances of the drive. Collections are as follows:

EXAMINE FOR CENSUS TODAY

Applicants Will Report to High School at 9 o'Clock

Applicants for positions on the census of 100 workers to take the 1920 census for the sixth district will be examined this morning at the high school building at 9 o'clock by George S. Lewis, assistant to John Hollins of Tulare, census supervisor of the sixth district. It was announced yesterday.

Throughout the day yesterday applicants were received at the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce and also the American Legion headquarters for the positions, with the result that Mrs. V. Cooper reported that they had made application at the chamber office up to 5 o'clock last night, while Secretary Nell Ellis of the American Legion reported that he had taken applications from twelve ex-service men.

It is expected that there will be more applicants for positions this morning prior to the examination, as the number desired is Lewis was 100 for the district.

It is stated that the rate of pay for the census takers has been increased this year to four cents a head, and that the average for a day's work is seventy-five names. Under the former system of payment average returns to the census takers was $100 a month.

SKELETONS MAY SOLVE MYSTERY

Remains Found Near Lompoc May Be Lennon Family

The finding of two skeletons on the R. W. Smith ranch near Lompoc, believed to be those of Mrs. L. Lennon and her aged mother, reported from Santa Barbara today, may solve a mystery of 10 years ago, says the Los Angeles Herald.

A laborer who was excavating on the Smith ranch found the skeletons and immediately reported his discovery to the Lompoc authorities, who in turn notified the coroner at Santa Barbara, the county seat.

Mrs. Lennon, her mother and her husband, disappeared mysteriously about 10 years ago and were never heard from thereafter. Mr. and Mrs. Lennon had leased the Smith ranch to convert it into a seed farm. Soon after they located on the property Mrs. Lennon's mother joined them.

The family appeared to be prosperous and some rare plants were being successfully grown when Mrs. Lennon disappeared. Enlisting the aid of the Lompoc police, Lennon began a search for her. She was found in San Luis Obispo, where she had been put off a train because she had no funds to pay her fare.

Lennon took his wife home. A few weeks passed and then all three persons disappeared. Although a long and thorough search was made not the slightest clue to their fate was ever discovered. The crops they had put in went to ruin and as the years passed the mystery was almost forgotten.

Fat Hog Listing to Close Next Monday

Monday will be the last day to list hogs for the farm bureau fat hog sale which will be held in Fresno on December 5. It was announced yesterday at the office of the county farm adviser.

The sale will be held at the South-ern Pacific corral, and indications point to a fine showing of porkers for the occasion.

MAKE PLANS FOR OLD TIRE SALE

Legion Committee Asks for Bids in Second Hand Casings

Additional plans for the success of "Old Tire Day," to be held December 19 and 20, under the auspices of Fresno post, American Legion, to aid in securing funds for the fight against tuberculosis, were perfected yesterday at a meeting of the legion committee, which is headed by E. M. Johnston.

Johnson will go before the superior court next week and ask that a spot in Court House park be set aside for the use of the legion on these days, where the citizens of Fresno and vicinity will be able to leave old automobile tires. These tires will be carefully guarded by the legion's committee, and it is planned to sell them and turn over the money thus obtained to aid in the work. This activity was taken up by the American Legion following an explanation of the Red Cross Christmas seal sale and the use of the funds derived by Mrs. E. L. Tate-Thompson and Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, the former executive secretary of the California Tuberculosis League.

Immediately following the explanation of the work with has been made possible by the seal sale, especially among the men of the service and rejected men of the draft boards, the legion decided to aid in the work, and a committee was appointed to meet with the ladies. The "old tire" plan was proposed by E. M. Johnston, and met with the approval of the ladies.

Negotiations were opened yesterday by the legion committee to secure bids for the tires and it is expected that a large sum will be derived. An appeal has been issued by the committee asking automobilists to save their old tires and donate them to the Red Cross during the two days of the campaign.

CHRISTMAS TREE MART ABOLISHED

Supervisors Refuse Permits to Dealers in Festive Tree

Through an order agreed to informally by members of the board of supervisors and enforced by supervisor J. B. Johnson, in charge of the court house buildings and grounds, the Christmas tree mart which has annually surrounded portions of the Van Ness and Fresno street sides of the park has been abolished.

The abolition comes about through refusal of the county to grant permits for the peddlers and salesmen of the tree. More than a dozen applications for their annual privilege has been filled by the vendors with the board but were all refused yesterday.

The after-the-war term "profiteering" is not so apt to be the reason of the death of the tree mart. The supervisors allege that in recent years the smaller dealers have sold out to their moneyed colleagues with the result that the rush period of the season finds most all of the trees in the hands of one or two men who hold up the price for as much as the traffic will bear.

"As a result of these tactics on Christmas eve last year the public was compelled to pay $2.50 for a white tree," said Supervisor Johnson in explaining the reason for the order. "The board does not want the county by giving these dealers selling space, to become a party to any possible hold-up or profiteering."

Attorney Suffers Nervous Breakdown

Following a nervous breakdown which he suffered about a week ago, Attorney Henry Brickley was yesterday committed to the state institution at Stockton on order of Superior Judge M. F. McCormick. The commitment papers read that the maximum period for treatment should be two years.

The complaint in the action, which charged insanity, was filed by Brickley's brother-in-law. The court proceedings were very brief and the commitment papers were issued at the instance of a group of the attorney's friends and relatives.

AIR TELEPHONE USED ON BORDER

To Keep in Touch With Mexican Border Patrol of Airplanes

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Wireless telephone sending apparatus is now being used to enable the aerial border patrol of the Mexican border line, according to Colonel J. L. Thompson, chief signal officer of the western department, who is sent to leave for the border to inspect the wireless equipment. Four law sending stations have been installed. Colonel Thompson says each with a radius of 100 miles.

"The object of the wireless," said Col. Thompson, "is to enable the authorities to keep in momentary communication with the border patrol of airplanes that is constantly maintaining the Mexican border line within the jurisdiction of the western department of the army is now equipped with wireless telephones showing airplanes that will reach an army airplane at any place along the border.

"The wireless will reduce to a minimum the chances of a pilot becoming lost as the position of an airplane and its several direction from the land station can be fairly accurately gauged with the army's telephonic equipment. As soon as the signal corps of the southern department completes the installation of its wireless telephone stations the army will have a row of stations from the Pacific to the Gulf of Mexico."

TO HOLD TRADE MEET, MEXICO

Commerce With United States To Be Subject of Discussion

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—A conference of exporters, importers, manufacturers, bankers, and merchants concerned with trade between the United States and Mexico will be held in Mexico City for three days beginning February 11 next at which time questions vital to commerce between the two countries will be discussed by experts. The conference has been arranged by the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico, Secretary W. F. Saunders stating that approximately 4,000 invitations had been extended.

The subjects to be discussed are: Mexican sales methods and distribution; Mexican agencies and representations; Mexican banking facilities; financing the exports of Mexico; shipping and packing merchandise for Mexico and trade marks for Mexico. The proceedings will be in English, but the report of the conference will be printed in both Spanish and English.

"Commerce between the United States and Mexico is increasing," said Mr. Saunders. "The Associated Press. In 1918, it amounted to $245,512,981 and this year it will be much greater. As this commerce grows, trade problems arise the practical solution of which is of vital importance if the United States is to hold its present trade advantage in Mexico."

"To discuss these problems we arranged for a conference of trade experts, the first of its kind ever held in Mexico. In extending our invitations we have emphasized that we wish to have representatives attend the conference who are really in a position to speak with authority. The Mexican Chambers of Commerce are acting in full accord with us in this project and we anticipate much benefit as the result of this get-together meeting."

FORBID MERRYMAKING OVER MEXICAN GRAVES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—A new municipal law forbids Mexicans to hold fiestas in cemeteries, over the graves of their great-grandfathers or other relatives, or to have been the usual practice of the poorer people on All Souls' Day. This action has been taken at the request of the church authorities.

The graves of the most popular holidays in Mexico has been All Souls' Day, which, by tradition of the Catholic church, is dedicated to the dead, and as such should be observed as a solemn occasion. The poorer class of natives, however, had turned it into a day of hilarity and general rejoicing, and it was no uncommon thing to find a happy group drinking pulque and playing dominoes over the grave of some dear and deceased relative.

The merry-making was stopped this year by order of the city council.

RECLAIM ARID ARIZONA LAND

New Projects Planned in Five Districts of State

PHOENIX, Arizona, Nov. 26.—Reclamation of more large areas of land in Arizona by means of irrigation projects became a strong probability when the state land commission, acting in conjunction with officials of the United States Reclamation Service, decided on an investigation and a final report on salient facts concerning five irrigation projects. Three are in San Carlos, San Francisco river and Red Rock river projects. Two others are to be re-opened later, the commission announced. A $20,000 appropriation was made available for the investigation and report.

The San Carlos dam site is located on the Gila river, in Arizona, and the project contemplates the reclamation of an estimated 100,000 acres, possibly more, chiefly in Pinal county between the towns of Florence and Casa Grande.

The Red Rock site is located in New Mexico in a position commanding irrigable lands in Arizona on the mesa south of Franklin, Greenlee county.

The San Francisco dam site also is in New Mexico, near Alma, and it is proposed for development as an auxiliary to the San Carlos project.

The state's part in these enterprises is one of cooperation with the United States reclamation service, solution of which is of vital importance if the United States is to hold its present trade advantage in Mexico.

"To discuss these problems we arranged for a conference of trade experts, the first of its kind ever held in Mexico. In extending our invitations we have emphasized that we wish to have representatives attend the conference who are really in a position to speak with authority. The Mexican Chambers of Commerce are acting in full accord with us in this project and we anticipate much benefit as the result of this get-together meeting."

BAY CRAB FISHERS RESUME OPERATIONS

Law Enforces Close Season From July 30 to November 15

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—After the annual "crabbing" season, which closed on July 30, the bay crab fishers of San Francisco are again at work, operations having been resumed Saturday, November 15, following suspension since July 30.

More than 200 boats comprise the San Francisco crab fleet, and they operate outside the limits of the Golden Gate, their base of operations being Fishermen's wharf, where not only the crab fishers but hundreds of boats engaged in deep sea fishing are quartered.

The closed season for the crab fishers coincides with the moulting time of the crustaceans, and is established by law to conserve the supply.

The three-and-a-half-month period gives the crabs time to get an entirely new outfit of wearing apparel, and they are now in new hard shells and their flesh has resumed its edible condition.

When the time for moulting is due, the crab discards his old shell by walking on his back. This leaves the crab's body soft and watery. Sudden growth then occurs, the crab swelling at least 20 per cent in size. This is followed by a gradual hardening of the new shell.

Strict enforcement of the closed season, in which the crab fishers cooperate, realizing that it is to their benefit, has kept up a large supply of crabs, according to N. F. Scheff, head of the commercial department of the California fish and game commission.

Other conservation measures that preserve the industry are the provisions which forbid the catching of any crab measuring under seven inches across the back of the shell.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 26.—Laws limiting profits on necessities of life, permitting municipalities to deal in such necessities, enabling the federal government to acquire stores for storage of foodstuffs, an anti-waste act and the curbing of profiteering in rentals were included in a tentative legislative program drawn up today by Michigan's General Assembly for submission to a proposed special session of the legislature which would deal with the high cost of living.

FRANCE HONORS STATE COLLEGE

Thanks University for Part Played in World War

BERKELEY, Nov. 27.—To Our Most Loyal Sister: Hearing this inscription on one side, a beautiful medallion accompanied by a letter which pays glowing tribute to the war services of the University of California, was today received from the University of Paris by Dean William Carey Jones, chairman of the Administrative Board of the State University.

On the other side of the medal was the inscription, "Scientia instrumentum est, scientia virtus," and a figure of a woman with a book in one hand and a sword in the other. Translated freely, the inscription reads, "Science, the instrument of justice, with book and with sword."

The letter states that it is particularly inspiring to the University of Paris to "thank again the University of California for the brilliant part which its professors and students have taken in the common victory," and begs the university to consider this medal as a testimonial of its perpetual friendship.

Authorities of the University of California today stated that the medallion of loyalty would be placed on exhibition with other medals and honors received by the University for distinguished war work.

STORM STOPS DINNER ON BAY WARSHIPS

Thanksgiving Celebration On Ships Held Up By Wind

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving meant little on the cruiser Minneapolis and the destroyer Blad, which included in their crew in San Francisco bay, about the ships were the entire crew of officers and men, but the windstorm that swept the bay clear of all small craft made it impossible either for anyone to fill a dinner engagement on shore or for the turkey, cranberries and other supplies for the Thanksgiving spread on the vessels to be brought out from the docks. Friends were guarding the Thanksgiving decorations on shore at last reports and the officers and men were hoping to have a delayed dinner tomorrow.

ALREADY—at the very moment you read this—a thousand particularly intelligent men and women are asking their newsdealers for Hearst's for November. Minute by minute and hour by hour—all over the United States—this will continue until 500,000 of the most progressive magazine readers have secured their copies.

The others, disappointed, will have to wait until next month—or be satisfied with a lesser magazine.

YOU, perhaps, already have your November number. You have looked at the Table of Contents—Itzhak, Maeterlinck, Conan Doyle, G. K. Chesterton. Or nearer home; Judge E. H. Gary, head of U. S. Steel, on "Something More than the Pay Envelope." Or B. C. Forbes, K. C. B., Walt Mason, Dr. Frank Crane. Or you have, maybe, turned first to the Art—Play—Book—Science—of the Month. One thing is certain, you have noticed the real authority of Hearst's—its splendid sexus side.

BUT—you say—you buy a magazine for its fiction. Good! Here in Hearst's for November are stories by Robert W. Chambers, Richard Washburn Child, Arthur Somers Roche, and Bruno Lessing, Arthur Stringer, Edwin Balmer and Gouverneur Morris. Besides these are three English writers, F. E. Baily, Derek Vane, E. Phillips Oppenheim—as well as Maurice Level, the best of the modern French writers. All these and several others in selected stories—stories that will make you think!

IF you don't particularly care for a magazine that will make you think—if you are not interested in a magazine a bit beyond the ordinary—you won't want Hearst's this month or any other. BUT, if you want the works of the world's great writers; if you want the words of the world's real leaders; if you want the thoughts of the world's great thinkers; don't fail to make sure each month—starting today with November of getting your regular copy of

SESSUE HAYAKAWA in THE ILLUSTRIOUS PRINCE - LIBERTY (PHOTOPLAYS)

LIBERTY

Today will afford absolutely the last opportunity of seeing "The Thirteenth Chair," the greatest mystery play ever screened and "Please Get Married," the comedy success of the season in which Viola Dana has scored the triumph of her career.

Since its first presentation here on Wednesday this gigantic double program has drawn record smashing attendances—easily the largest in the history of Fresno's leading picture palace. Naturally the drawing card has to the greater extent been been the mystery play and it can safely be asserted that we have never had a picture here which has so completely absorbed attention but for this it not to be wondered at.

the intensely powerful story, lavishly illustrated, retains the secret until the very last moment—until the conclusion of the marriage itself.

Coming tomorrow Director George P. Shipley has another stupendous program which undoubtedly will prove immensely to the liking of Liberty patrons. Sessue Hayakawa, most famous of Japanese actors, will appear in "The Illustrious Prince."

The work of Hayakawa has carried him into the popular favor of audiences in approximately five thousand theaters in the United States. They have clamored to see him in something typifying the Oriental in the Occidental world. As the prince in this great story he is part of a wonderful production of intrigue, mystery, romance and dramatic tension.

Though his work in previous pictures has been wonderful in this introduction it is superlatively so.

Doubling with this feature is another in which Mary Miles Minter, always a supreme favorite, will be seen as the lovely "Gladys of Paris" in "Yvonne From Paris." This first story is that of an insouciant Parisienne who ran away to America and accumulated a tremendous amount of experience. The situations are indescribably funny and nothing can be more certain than that the comedy will give tomorrow's attendances a pain in the side with merriment.

KINEMA

Marguerite Clark, alone the widow's sob and "Fatty" Arbuckle, as a village shoe salesman, has a "fit" with his best friend in "The Hayseed" all on the same Kinema program which is showing for the first time today.

What is the difference between a "bachelor girl" and an "old maid"? Perhaps you will say the former is a polite form for the latter, but it doesn't come out that way in "Widow By Proxy."

Although Gloria Grey, the role played by Miss Clark in the picture, is an unmarried woman of the marriageable age, you wouldn't think of calling such a beauty "little woman" or "old maid."

When she marries at a tender age, naturally, the surprised widow of a soldier, and pulls the wool over the sharp eyes of a pair of typical Massachusetts sinners. You know she is far and away out of her class.

She goes into widow's weeds to help out her chum and wins a husband. But not so easy as that! At times she almost loses heart, especially when she has to weep for the "late departed" in front of the man of her heart and she is dying for him to propose.

This captivating little comedy takes away your laughing turns, ends and gives of laughter, and is just the kind for which little Miss Clark is famous. Niel Barrie, just returned from service in the Royal Flying Corps, is the leading man. He will be remembered as "Cutter Goodwin" in the popular "Fatty" stories.

"Fatty" was more burlesque than ever in "The Hayseed." He plays his first major engagement ring and is the very life of the village. Although his life is almost ruined when he is accused of a theft, he rallies and marries the girl of his choice. It's a program.

Tomorrow brings one of the most wonderful offerings of the season—Elsie Ferguson, "the girl of the screen," in "The Society Exile." Besides being a drama of unusual strength, this production contains some of the most wonderful scenes ever filmed. Scenes of English country life and Venice, the Canal City, are faithfully portrayed and the cast is made up of the most skillful artists in his or her individual field of endeavor.

On the same program—"A Gay Old Dog," written by Edna Ferber and adapted for the screen by Mrs. Sidney Wicks. It's the story of Jimmy Dodd, who couldn't get married because he had selfish sisters to support. It's a play of broad smiles and happy laughter with an occasional sigh for the "Gay Old Dog."

Incorporation papers for the Hawaiian Land Company, with a capitalization of $25,000, was filed yesterday with the county clerk. The incorporators are: Masao Hata, Eichi Ohnaka and T. Kopa.

WILL REDUCE CITRUS RATE

Tulare Exchange Wins Its Case Before I. C. C. Examiner

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 28.—Telegrams received here today by W. L. Spratt, the manager of the Tulare County Citrus Fruit Exchange, new to the effect that members of the California Citrus League, including practically all the leading factors in the orange market here, have won their case before the Interstate Commerce Commission examiner, sitting in Los Angeles, for a material reduction in orange shipping rates.

According to the text of the decision, a charge of $1.08 is set for blanket territory between the Rocky Mountains and Buffalo-Pittsburgh. East of the latter line the rate will be $1.35. This compares with the former charge of $1.15 and $1.41 per box. The decision also awards reparation to the orange growers for all excess charges over $1.08 paid for two years prior to March 25, 1918. The reparation is to be made in demurrage and other incidental charges. The case is yet to be reviewed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, but League officials are confident the findings of the examiner in Los Angeles will be affirmed.

Completes Picking of Crop of Oranges

Mrs. K. B. Ensign of Clinton, Iowa, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Orion McKiernan for some time, has been quite ill since her arrival in this country. The attending physician is of the opinion that Mrs. Ensign was suffering from an attack of the "flu" which is prevalent here in a much lighter form this winter and seems to be the cause of her illness.

Mrs. Ensign is also a visitor at the McKiernan home. Mr. McKiernan of Globe, who has leased his place and is spending the winter in Oakland, in order that his children can attend the University, is visiting friends in this vicinity at present. He states that Miss Beth Ensign is undergoing a very painful ordeal as the result of a bite from a tooth, while dental work was being done and that an inch and a half of the needle has been located by means of the X-ray. In the meantime the dentist has contracted the "flu" so the needle has not been removed from the tooth as yet.

Mrs. Ensign and Mrs. J. P. Becker of Globe are planning to entertain Mrs. Rippenhaff of Bakersfield and her son, Bert and daughter, Edna, during the Thanksgiving holiday. The party will arrive Wednesday evening.

Mrs. John Burris left Tuesday for Lindsay and Farmersville where she will visit for a few days before going on to Santa Cruz where she will make her home in the future. Mrs. Burris leaves a number of friends who regret to learn of her departure.

W. H. Neal who has been ill for the past several days, is somewhat improved and is able to go about again. Dewey Maas, formerly of Globe, but now of Lindsay, was visiting friends in this district. He reports labor among the citrus growers very scarce and the prices paid pickers above the usual rate.

Mrs. Baker and two sons of Porterville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Nettie Patton, this week.

Plan Development In Coalinga Field

COALINGA, Nov. 28.—The Canadian-Coalinga Oil Company is preparing to do some more development work on section 3, 21-15, in the Coalinga field, and will start another public sale of land. The company has done no development work since it brought in a gusher about nine years ago. The No. 1 well has been producing steadily since that time and is supplying the neighborhood of 2600 barrels of oil monthly. Oil operators will watch the development of the new well in this territory with interest.

Thanksgiving Day Was Duly Observed

SANGER, Nov. 28.—The union Thanksgiving service of the various churches of Sanger was held on Thursday evening at the Methodist church. The services have heretofore been held in the day-time, but the crowded house on this occasion showed that the evening service is the more satisfactory. The service was held in the evening service, which showed a very large majority in favor of the evening service. So far as records can be found, this is the tenth such service, with no break except for last year when public services were impossible. The music for this service was furnished by a special quartet choir, which consisted of Mrs. L. A. Rice, soprano; Mrs. P. F. Edinger, alto; C. R. Chaney, tenor; and Dr. G. O. Vogt, bass. The invocation was by Rev. L. A. Rice of the Methodist church, and the prayer by Rev. R. D. Davidson of the Presbyterian church. The choir sang "To Thee, Oh Lord Our Hearts We Give." The offering was collected by Miss Jeanne Stiles played. Deacons from Jocelyn by Godard as a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. E. G. Thompson, preliminary to the sermon, by G. G. Thompson read the president's proclamation.

AVIATOR DAVISON VISITS COALINGA

Flies From Bay City in 2:02; Carried Bibles for Los Angeles

COALINGA, Nov. 28.—An airplane piloted by Dan Davison, the noted aviator, and carrying 350 pounds of bibles for the American Bible Association, to be distributed in Los Angeles, stopped for a few minutes in Coalinga this morning to replenish its fuel supply and incidentally for Davison to visit for a short time with Clara Halburton, whose local plane the flier brought to this city some months ago.

Davison made the flight from San Francisco in two hours and two minutes, said to be the fastest flight yet made from the bay city here. He declared upon his arrival that Coalinga is an ideal stopping place on the state-length route. This, according to the aviator, is due to Coalinga's being just the proper distance for a mid-point stop, where a driver can get a good meal and a change of horses. The local landing field also came in for praise by the pilot and he announced that he would lend his assistance to local parties interested in aeromotion, being about every greater improvement of the field here.

Y CAMPAIGN GETTING UNDER WAY

Y MEETING FOR SUNDAY

Drive Executive Will Check Up on Validations

For the purpose of checking up on the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. building fund drive, the executive committee will hold a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow afternoon. The committee will then be made to put over the "Finish the Job" campaign. All now working are enthusiastic in their desire to get the $100,000 still uncollected, and make a good civic reputation for the city.

Probably all cards are validated by this time, since George A. Barker, Y. M. secretary, the only trouble being that many of the workers are hard to get in touch with. He further states that the job of securing pledges or cash donations to cover the sum as yet uncollected will not be as difficult as the work of securing validations. Barker asserts that there have been very few refusals in the matter of renewals, and he believes that not over 2 per cent will be lost in the present drive.

Juveniles Assessed Adult Penalty for Breaking Speed Law

"Did you do it?"
Answered in muffled yeses, for the juveniles.

The above dialogue comprised the under part of the proceedings in Superior Judge J. Z. Austin's court yesterday afternoon when four juveniles made their appearance on citations charging them with violation of the state motor vehicle act in "stepping on the gas" too hard.

The incident was closed when the court assessed a fine of $10 against each of the defendants after stating that he saw no reason why the same penalty should not be imposed against adults on a speeding offense.

The defendants were Chester Anderson, David McKee, Ed Miller and Elma Hutchinson. They were tried with a swiftness that is uncommonly seen outside of police court.

NO DAMAGE DONE CITRUS FRUIT BY FROST

Low Temperatures Have Been Positive Benefit to Oranges

Severely low temperatures, which were recorded in all parts of the San Joaquin valley on Friday morning by the weather bureau, did no damage to citrus fruits, according to opinion expressed by leading green fruit men of Fresno.

The weather report for Friday morning showed 25 degrees at Fresno, 23 at Merced, 25 degrees at Lindsay and 23 at Porterville, and the forecast is a slow rise in temperature during Saturday and Sunday night. For Saturday morning the anticipation is "killing frost."

"There has been no damage at all to oranges in this district," said C. D. Campbell, manager of the Stewart Fruit Co., last night. "Should there be heavy frost for several days longer there would be, probably, some damage, but to what extent we could not tell until later, after a survey of the orange district. So far the frost has been a positive benefit."

The Fresno district this year will ship about 500 cars of oranges, according to Mr. Campbell, these figures referring only to the two main crops, Fresno and Dinwiddie. The quality of the fruit is better than usual, and fruit men are anticipating good prices.

Practically all the green fruit is gone from the district except lemons and oranges. Lemons are being shipped from cold storage. Those which have not been picked have been shipped by the frost, according to general reports.

A few shipments of malagras are being heard from, according to L. C. Haight, manager of the California Fruit Exchange, prices ranging around $5.50 to $7.50 for the best, and as low as $1.65. Emperors, depending on quality, have sold as high as $2.50 for a car that was not frost-killed, and malagras have sold for more than $2.

SHERIFF GOES OVER DEAD MAN'S TRAIL

A. G. Perry's Car Found Saturated With Liquor After Accident

Sheriff Jones returned last night from a two days' investigation into the death of Albert G. Perry, the 31-year-old traveling salesman who was found dead under his overturned car Wednesday night on the highway near Herndon.

The Sheriff's investigation was undertaken principally because the Jones were found in Perry's car that he had either carried a load of liquor or that someone had used the car for such purpose, as the car was saturated with whiskey, which had flowed from bottles broken when his car turned turtle.

In tracing the man's movements on the day of the accident Sheriff Jones found a garage where Perry had his car repaired, where it had been noticed that the man was very drunk, and efforts were made to try to keep him from proceeding to his home on the night of the accident. The sheriff who thought the trail might lead to the apprehension of the bootleggers from whom Perry had evidently bought his supply of liquor, said last night that he was not through with the case.

Sheriff Jones spoke warmly of J. C. Crick of 1528 I street, who found the dead man under his car, and notified the police of the wrecked stage on the Southern Pacific tracks.

Greek Gun Men on Trial December 11

Steve Waynawitch and Nick Botick, the Greek gunmen who are alleged to have held up the Greek American Gun Club at 1203 I street, will be placed on trial in the superior court on December 11, when it is expected some sensational evidence will be introduced by the prosecution regarding the hold-up, which puzzled the police until April 15, when Waynawitch and Botick were arrested.

Unusual interest attends the trial of Waynawitch, who was a close friend of Ernest Nikis, the condemned murderer of Edwin S. Taylor, the old broom man, as Waynawitch was with Nikis on the morning of the murder, and Sheriff Jones left up stones turned to try to connect Waynawitch with the murder.

No evidence, however, was discovered by the sheriff which was considered strong enough to implicate Waynawitch.

The hold up of the Greek American club took place at 3:50 o'clock on the morning of April 15, when two masked men walked into the crowded club, room, and one who was armed with two revolvers fired a shot at the ceiling and told all present to hold up their hands and to be quick about it. The other masked man carried a knife, and after the hold-up both made their escape.

After the arrest Steve Waynawitch secured bail, but Nick Botick remained in jail, and has been there ever since. Ernest Nikis, who was a close friend of Botick, called to see Botick the morning after the old broom man had been murdered. Nikis claimed he did not have the money to furnish bail.

An official valuation of the estate of Maria J. Prietis, deceased, placed it at $2,000.
